OMNITRONIK NEW REVOLUTIONARY COMMUNICATION TECHNOLOGY

No matter what operating system you are using, it makes no difference. We have succeeded in breaching the gap for all to be able to view video conferencing without having to download any programs other than the usual internet plugins like adobe flash player. No need to get a webcam either. Nothing complicated. It is as simple as opening your browser and clicking on the conference window to experience this revolutionary "visio/audio" new technology. Participants will be surprised at the ease of use, and this simple technology will change forever the internet experience and communication capabilities of its users.
